

Biographies

Dr Graham Gudgin

Graham Gudgin is Honorary Research Associate at the Centre For Business Research (CBR) in the Judge Business School at the University of Cambridge and Chief Economic Advisor at Policy Exchange in London. He was formerly Director of the Northern Ireland Economic Research Centre in Belfast and from 1998 - 2002 was Special Advisor to First Minister David Trimble in Northern Ireland.

Dr Austen Morgan

Austen Morgan is a barrister in London (at 33 Bedford Row) and Belfast. He is the author of Tony Blair and the IRA: the 'on the runs' scandal, London 2016. He is a contributor to Legacy: what to do about the past in Northern Ireland?, Jeffrey Dudgeon, ed., Belfast 2018. Further biographical details will be included in his conference paper.

Gregory Campbell MP

Gregory Campbell has been the MP for East Londonderry since 2001. A member of the DUP, he has also sat as an MLA and Councillor for Londonderry City Council (1981 – 2011).

A native of Londonderry, he grew up during the outbreak of violence in the city and became a prominent voice unionist from the city.

He appeared in the BBC's controversial programme "At the Edge of the Union" in 1985, which was initially banned by the Government as it included interviews with Provisional IRA Terrorists.

Dr Andrew Charles

Andrew Charles is a native of Belfast. He studied at Queen's University Belfast, graduating with a PhD in 2016.

He has an interest in Ulster/Irish political history and previously worked at Stormont.

He is a contributor to Legacy: what to do about the past in Northern Ireland?, Jeffrey Dudgeon, ed., Belfast 2018.

Prof Liam Kennedy

Liam Kennedy is an Irish historian, emeritus professor of history at Queen's University, Belfast.

Liam Kennedy was born in rural Tipperary, Ireland.

In 2005, Kennedy stood against Gerry Adams as an independent candidate for Belfast West, to protest against IRA violence especially punishment beatings in their own community.

Kennedy's controversial look at Irish history, Unhappy the Land: The Most Oppressed People Ever, the Irish? was published in 2016 by Merrion Press.